DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

This application is a 371 of PCT/EP03/10295.

Claims 1-11 are pending.

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions, which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group, I claim(s) 1-8, drawn to a process for producing actinol from ketoisophorone, which comprises contacting ketoisophorone with a recombinant microorganism or mutant thereof, wherein the microorganism comprises levodione reductase gene (cellular method).

Group, II claim(s) 1-8, drawn to a process for producing actinol from ketoisophorone, which comprises contacting ketoisophorone with cell free extract of a recombinant microorganism wherein the microorganism comprises levodione reductase gene (in vitro method).

Group, III claim(s) 9-11, drawn to a microorganism or a mutant thereof comprising levodione reductase gene.

2. The inventions listed as Groups I - III do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The microorganism comprising a gene encoding a polypeptide of levodione reductase of Group III, and the method for producing actinol by using the microorganism comprising a gene encoding a polypeptide of levodione reductase of Group I or cell extract of recombinant microorganism of Group II, they all relate to polynucleotide encoding a polypeptide levodione reductase. However, this shared technical feature is not a "special technical feature" as defined by PCT Rule 13.2 as it does not define a contribution over the art. Yoshisumi et al. teach a DNA encoding a levodione reductase gene (Corynebacterium aquaticum lvr gene for levodione reductase, complete cds. GenBank Accession No. AB042262, created 10/12/2001) which is known in the art. Thus, a DNA encoding a levodione reductase protein does not make contribution over the prior art.

3. Furthermore, the products of Groups III do not share a special common structural and functional feature while, the methods of Groups I and II do not use the same reagents or produce the same results. In addition, the methods of Groups I and II do not comprise all of the methods for making or using the products of Groups II. Accordingly, Groups I-III are not so linked by the same or a corresponding special technical feature as to form a single general inventive concept.

4. The methods of Groups I and II do not have unity of invention with each other as each methods comprises unrelated steps, use different products and/or produce different effects.

37 CFR 1.475 does not provide for multiple products and/or methods within a single application. Therefore, inventions of Group I - III lack unity of invention.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and a product claim is subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be rejoined in accordance with the provisions of MPEP § 821.04. Process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the patentable product will be entered as a matter of right if the amendment is presented prior to final rejection or allowance, whichever is earlier. Amendments submitted after final rejection are governed by 37 CFR 1.116; amendments submitted after allowance are governed by 37 CFR 1.312.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103, and 112. Until an elected product claim is found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowed product claim will not be rejoined. See "Guidance on Treatment of Product and Process Claims in light of In re Ochiai, In re Brouwer and 35 U.S.C. § 103(b)," 1184 O.G. 86 (March 26, 1996). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, Applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution either to maintain dependency on the product claims or to otherwise include the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder.
